

Make research work for your school, and address your challenges

Bespoke Action Research

- Your school identifies a challenge
- EdYou design a bespoke project to meet that challenge
- We undertake the work, deliver and disseminate the report
- Outcomes focus on practical recommendations and interventions specific to your school's circumstances
- Projects can be run with a group / family of schools

Research Support

- Your school identifies a challenge
- EdYou trains and supports designated staff members to carry out bespoke research to meet the challenge
- Outcomes include a report with practical recommendations and interventions specific to your school's circumstances
- Staff members involved are trained to carry out research in your school to address other challenges - a sustainable model

Project Evaluation

- EdYou evaluate the efficacy of an existing intervention, helping to assess value for money and to justify further expenditure
- Focus on practical recommendations to improve efficacy
- Evaluations include attainment, but also social and whole-student criteria

“These research projects make a tangible difference to practice in schools”

Kirstie Andrew-Power,
Head of membership, SSAT

“The support from EdYou went above and beyond my expectations... a truly invaluable service that I will continue to utilise
